Vancouver

About Google Developer Group:
Google Developer Group Vancouver is a volunteer-run community that prides itself on being an inclusive environment where everyone and anyone interested in tech - from beginner developers to experienced professionals are welcome to join. Contact us at gdgyvr@gmail.com.

About DevFest

DevFest is a community-driven tech conference organized by the Google Developer Group (GDG) Community. It is the perfect place for your organization to connect with both technical and non-technical audiences. This year GDG Vancouver is organizing devfest on November 19, 2022.

Based on great response from our monthly meetups we are expecting more than 100 participants in our devfest conference. The audience includes different professionals, however, from the recent trends of our monthly events we are expecting a handful of students and new grads, startup founders, job seekers and industry professionals.

Date: 19 November 2022, 10:00 AM - 4:00 PM
Location: TBD (Downtown Vancouver)

Why should you support us?

- Technical Recruiting: DevFest Vancouver is a great opportunity to meet emerging talent in the Vancouver tech industry.
- Brand Recognition/Product Exposure: Expand your brand presence and expose attendees, partners, and press to your company, product, or API.
- Support the Vancouver Tech Community: We are excited to be a part of the growing tech community in Vancouver. Join us!
